I acknowledge the following:

I understand I have the option to elect an annuity option allowed under my plan, and I have elected the withdrawal option listed above.

Upon completion of the administrative review, the withdrawal may be processed, but the proceeds remain subject to certain verification controls before delivery. If the verification controls are not completed for any reason, the proceeds of the withdrawal will be redeposited into your account as of the current market price on the date of redeposit.

INSTRUCTION GUIDE

This instruction guide provides important information and tips to help you complete the Withdrawal Form. The sections of the instruction guide match the sections of the Withdrawal Form.

Please read it carefully and follow along as you complete the Withdrawal Form.

Step 1: Your information

Quick tips:

- Include full U.S. Social Security number/U.S. Taxpayer Identification number.
- Confirm your address.
- Attach IRS Form W-8BEN, if applicable.

U.S. Social Security number/U.S. Taxpayer Identification number

It's important that you provide your complete and correct U.S. Social Security number/U.S. Taxpayer Identification number for accurate tax reporting and verification.

Account extension

You will only have an account extension if you have multiple accounts on our platform. If you have an account extension, it can be found on your statement.

Updates on this request

We will keep you updated on the status of this withdrawal if you provide us your mobile number or your email address. By providing your mobile number and/or email address, you are consenting to receive text messages, emails, or both related to this request.

Are you a non-resident alien?

If so, we will withhold taxes at a rate of 30% unless your country of residence has entered into a tax treaty with the U.S. that provides for a reduced withholding rate or an exemption from withholding. To claim this treaty rate, you must complete and attach IRS Form W-8BEN. You can download this form by accessing irs.gov, clicking Forms & Instructions at the top of the page, and typing "W-8BEN" in the search bar.

Use the tips below to make sure your W-8BEN form is received in good order.

- To receive the treaty rate, the country must be listed on the IRS website as having a treaty benefit.
- Your name and country of citizenship must be spelled out and the country cannot be the United States of America.
- Your address cannot be a P.O. Box.
- You must provide a valid date of birth.
- Your form must be signed and dated.
- Your foreign tax identifying number cannot match your U.S. Social Security number or U.S. individual Taxpayer Identification number.
- All countries listed on the form must match.

Would you like to calculate your payment over your and your spouse's joint life expectancy?

If you are a current or former employee of Cornell-Hart and you have a sole, spousal primary beneficiary who is more than 10 years younger, you may provide instruction to use the IRS Joint and Last Survivor Table to calculate your RMD. The IRS tables can be viewed at irs.gov.

Confirm your address

For your security, your address on the Withdrawal Form must match the address we have on file. Address information must be on file for at least 15 days. If you need to make a change to the address we have on file, call us at 1-833-569-2433.

Step 2: Account information

Quick tips:

- Choose one reason for your withdrawal.
- Know your options if you have a loan.

Do you have a loan?

If you have an outstanding loan on your account, you have the following options:

- Pay off the outstanding loan balance in full.
- Treat the outstanding loan (principal and interest) as a taxable withdrawal at the time you submit the Withdrawal Form. This is called a loan offset.

Loan offset information

If your loan is treated as a loan offset, you may roll over all or any portion of the offset amount if the loan is not in default. Any offset amount that is not rolled over will be taxed (including the 10% additional income tax on early withdrawals, unless an exception applies). You may roll over offset amounts to an IRA or an employer plan (if the plan accepts loan offset rollovers).

You will have until your tax return due date (including extensions) for the tax year during which the offset occurs to complete your rollover. A qualified plan loan offset occurs when a plan loan in good standing is offset because your employment ends or your plan terminates. If your offset occurs for any other reason, you have 60 days from the date the offset occurs to complete your rollover.

Step 3: One-time RMD payment options

Quick tips:

- Review your December 31 balance.
- Effective January 1, 2024, for account owners and alternate payees, Roth money sources will be excluded from the RMD calculation and depletion, and Roth withdrawals will not count toward your RMD amount.
- Attach IRS Form W-4R to elect your federal withholding, if applicable.
- Attach state withholding form, if applicable.
- Choose your delivery option.
- Note any applicable fees.
- Checks are mailed to the address we have on file.
- Electronic deposits (ACH) are made to the bank account we have on file.
- Address and banking information must be on file for at least 15 days.
- To add your bank account, you can set it up by going to your account online or by calling us at the number listed on this form.

IRS rules for Required Minimum Distributions, along with frequently asked questions, can be found on the IRS website at irs.gov. Once you are on the site, enter Required Minimum Distribution in the search bar. Please consult with your tax advisor for an explanation of the different minimum distributions rules.

Calculate a one-time RMD payment for me

- If you are a current or former employee of Cornell-Hart, your RMD will be calculated using your prior year's December 31 account balance divided by the appropriate life expectancy factor from the IRS Uniform Lifetime Table.
- If you are a current or former employee of Cornell-Hart, and you have a sole, spousal primary beneficiary who is more than 10 years younger, you may provide instruction to use the IRS Joint and Last Survivor Table to calculate your RMD. The IRS tables can be viewed at irs.gov.
- If you are a beneficiary or an alternate payee, your RMD will be calculated using your prior year's December 31 account balance divided by the appropriate life expectancy factor from the IRS Single Life Table, unless the following exception applies: If you are a spousal beneficiary, who started RMDs in 2024 or later, your plan will calculate RMDs using the Uniform Lifetime Table if you did not opt out.
- You are responsible for submitting a new Withdrawal Form for your RMD amount every year. It is your responsibility to ensure that the withdrawals comply with the IRS rules and deadlines for RMDs.
- If you fail to request a withdrawal for any year, the Internal Revenue Code ("Code") may impose a federal excise tax on any amount not withdrawn by the deadline. This excise tax is in addition to ordinary income tax.

What's the difference between pretax, after-tax and Roth accounts?

- Pretax accounts include contributions, earnings and any rollover amounts that have not yet been taxed. Employer contributions to your account are also considered pretax accounts.
- Your plan allows you to make after-tax contributions to your account. These after-tax contributions are different from Roth contributions (see the next bullet point for the description of Roth contributions). After-tax contributions can be withdrawn tax free but the earnings on these contributions are still taxable.
- Roth contributions are a special form of after-tax contributions. Both Roth and after-tax contributions are similar in tax treatment as you make contributions to the plan. The primary difference occurs when you take a withdrawal. Qualified distributions of Roth funds, including the earnings, are tax free.

For more information about the difference between pretax, after-tax and Roth contributions or information about other rollover options, refer to the 402(f) Notice of Special Tax Rules on Distributions.

How to elect tax withholding:

For one-time RMD payment or lump-sum payment for previous calendar year:

Your withholding rate is determined by the type of payment you will receive.

- We will automatically withhold 10% federal tax.

If you have too little tax withheld, you will generally owe tax when you file your tax return and may owe a penalty unless you make timely payments of estimated tax. If too much tax is withheld, you will generally be due a refund when you file your tax return. Your withholding choice (or an election not to have withholding) will generally apply to any future payment from the same plan or IRA.

You may use the table to help you select the appropriate withholding rate for this withdrawal. Add your income from all sources and use the column that matches your filing status to find the corresponding rate of withholding. See page 2 of the IRS Form W-4R found on irs.gov on how to use this table.

Special notes about state withholding, if applicable.

If you are making this withdrawal in a state that has different tax withholding laws from the state you live in, we encourage you to consult with your tax advisor before making your withholding elections.

If you would like to withhold taxes differently than your state's rate and your state allows you to, you must include a completed state income tax withholding form with your Withdrawal Form. You can obtain your state's income tax withholding form on the state's website.

If the form is required for your withdrawal and you do not include it or do not complete it accurately, the withdrawal will be taxed according to applicable state regulations.

Delivery options for one-time RMD payment:

- Regular mail
- Express mail
- Electronic deposit (ACH) (See Important information about electronic delivery below.)

All payments sent by regular or express mail will be sent to the address we have on file. This is for your security and to help prevent fraud on your account.

Your payment will not be delivered until the withdrawal process is complete. This includes receiving your request in good order and any required information or approvals from Cornell-Hart.

You may not use this form to update your mailing address. If you need to update your mailing address, call us at 1-833-569-2433 for instructions.

If an option is not selected, all transactions will be sent by regular mail.

Delivery fees

- There is a $50.00 fee for each type of check (pretax, after-tax and Roth) sent to you by express mail.

- Any delivery fee is non-refundable and will be deducted from the withdrawal amount.

- You authorize and direct your financial institution not to hold any overpayments on your behalf, or on behalf of your estate or any current or future joint account holder, if applicable.

Step 4: RMD installment payments

Quick tips:

- Review your December 31 balance.
- Effective January 1, 2024, for account owners and alternate payees, Roth money sources will be excluded from the RMD calculation and depletion, and Roth withdrawals will not count toward your RMD amount.
- Attach IRS Form W-4P to elect your federal withholding, if applicable.
- Attach state withholding form, if applicable.
- Choose your delivery option.
- Note any applicable fees.
- Checks are mailed to the address we have on file.
- Electronic deposits (ACH) are made to the bank account we have on file.
- Address and banking information must be on file for at least 15 days.
- To add your bank account, you can set it up by going to your account online or by calling us at the number listed on this form.

RMD installment payment options

- If you are due an initial, deferred RMD, it will be paid as a lump-sum withdrawal effective the day this request is processed.
- If you are a current or former employee of Cornell-Hart, your RMD will be calculated using your prior year's December 31 account balance divided by the appropriate life expectancy factor from the IRS.
- If you are a beneficiary or an alternate payee, your RMD will be calculated using your prior year's December 31 account balance divided by the appropriate life expectancy factor from the IRS Single Life Table, unless the following exception applies: If you are a spousal beneficiary, who started RMDs in 2024 or later, your plan will calculate RMDs using the Uniform Lifetime Table if you did not opt out.
- Once established, no additional paperwork is needed to complete the RMD every year. This installment will pay the full amount of your RMD each year. Any other eligible withdrawals will not reduce the RMD amount that is paid.
- If you are requesting an installment payment and you are participating in more than one type of retirement plan (i.e., 401(a), 403(b) or IRA), your minimum distribution must be calculated and taken separately from each plan. Contact the provider for each plan to discuss your options.

What's the difference between pretax, after-tax and Roth accounts?

- Pretax accounts include contributions, earnings and any rollover amounts that have not yet been taxed. Employer contributions to your account are also considered pretax accounts.
- Your plan allows you to make after-tax contributions to your account. These after-tax contributions are different from Roth contributions (see the next bullet point for the description of Roth contributions). After-tax contributions can be withdrawn tax free but the earnings on these contributions are still taxable.
- Roth contributions are a special form of after-tax contributions. Both Roth and after-tax contributions are similar in tax treatment as you make contributions to the plan. The primary difference occurs when you take a withdrawal. Qualified distributions of Roth funds, including the earnings, are tax free.

For more information about the differences between pretax, after-tax and Roth contributions or information about other rollover options, refer to the 402(f) Notice of Special Tax Rules on Distributions.

Periodic installment payments lasting longer than 10 years:

For your federal income tax withholding election, unless you elect out of withholding, or otherwise complete the IRS Form W-4P (please go to irs.gov and enter Form W-4P into the search bar or call 1-800-TAX-FORM (829-3676)), federal income tax will be withheld as if you are single with zero allowances. If you choose to make an alternate income tax withholding election, then you must complete and attach the IRS Form W-4P to this Withdrawal Form.

I understand that I am still liable for the payment of federal income tax on the taxable amount. I also understand that I may be subject to tax penalties under the estimated tax payment rules if my payments of estimated tax and withholding, if any, are not adequate.

Special notes about state withholding, if applicable.

If you are making this withdrawal in a state that has different tax withholding laws from the state you live in, we encourage you to consult with your tax advisor before making your withholding elections.

If you would like to withhold taxes differently than your state's rate and your state allows you to, you must include a completed state income tax withholding form with your Withdrawal Form. You can obtain your state's income tax withholding form on the state's website.

If the form is required for your withdrawal and you do not include it or do not complete it accurately, the withdrawal will be taxed according to applicable state regulations.
